Preface

William J. Friedman .......................................................... 187

Articles

Where No Lawyer Has Gone Before? What a Cyberspace Attorney Can Learn From Space Law’s Legacy

David S. Weitzel .......................................................... 191

Scarcity in Space: The International Regulation of Satellites

Adrian Copiz ............................................................... 207

Robert D. Richards and Clay Calvert ............................... 227

Book Review

Crusading Against the Dinosaurs: A Review of The Future of Ideas, by Lawrence Lessig

Susanna Frederick Fischer ............................................. 251

Comments

A Critique of the International Cybercrime Treaty

Ryan M.F. Baron ........................................................... 263

The Dominos of Goldwasser: Only Congress Can Stop the Toppling Effect Before the Game is Over

Megan Delany .............................................................. 279

Passive Warehousing Under ICANN’s Uniform Dispute Resolution Policy: A Utilitarian Perspective

Bernadette Dino ............................................................ 301

United States v. Mexico: The First Telecommunications Challenge Confronting the World Trade Organization

Rachel Rosenthal ........................................................ 315

Conspectus

Bibliography of Recent Books in Communications Law

Patrick J. Petit ............................................................ 337