Preface

Commentaries

Fairness—The Broadcaster’s Hippocratic Oath
Charles D. Ferris & James A. Kirkland ............................... 605

December 19, 1984: A Big Day in Telecommunications
Michael R. Gardner .......................................................... 625

Articles

Section 605 of the Communications Act: Teaching a Salty Old Sea Dog New Tricks
Richard L. Brown & Lauritz S. Helland .................................. 635

The Sequential Distribution of Television Programming in a Dynamic Marketplace
David E. Leibowitz .............................................................. 671

The Evolution of Telco-Constructed Broadband Services for CATV Operators
Thomas A. Hart, Jr. .............................................................. 697

Extensions of Broadcast Construction Permits
Gary P. Schonman .............................................................. 737

Comment

Proving Causation in “Loss of a Chance” Cases: A Proportional Approach ......................................................... 747

Notes

Pulliam v. Allen: Delineating the Immunity of Judges from Prospective Relief .............................................................. 829

NCAA v. Board of Regents of the University of Oklahoma: The NCAA’s Television Plan is Sacked by the Sherman Act ............................................. 857

Book Review ................................................................. 889